April News at the Tell Café

Expecting some showers? While they might be good for bringing May flowers, they often leave us feeling a bit wilted. Join us for an aromatic cup of Peppermint Tea, our feature beverage this month. Rain and pain often go together on April's chillier days. Peppermint's use dates back thousands of years and its anti-inflammatory nature can ease those achy joints.

MTPL's First Annual Maker Fest!

Our entire library will be devoted to "making" - a variety of high and low tech skills that will be available for you to see and many opportunities to get some hands-on experience! Certain activities, like soldering, will be restricted to teens and adults. If demand is strong these events may require signing up for a time slot to train with our professional volunteers. Staff and volunteers will be stationed all around the library with lots of great maker technology like 3D printing, Arduino, textiles, mini-robots and more. There will be maker activities for the younger folks as well in our children's area. While you're here, find out about our new relationship with make717, a place where you can learn to use high-end tools and software. Making can be a pastime or a profession. Our STEM-Maker passes will allow you to access this facility to be trained on the equipment of your choice. Some will take it further by manufacturing their own designs using make717's facility!

If you're hungry while you are visiting the Maker Fest, we encourage you to patronize Primo's Hoagies right down the road...When you place your order, mention Manheim Township Public Library. They will support our Maker Fest by contributing 10% of proceeds to all of our sales that day (11 AM to 5 PM). Or for convenience, visit the Tell Cafe right on the Library's premises (11:30 AM to 2 PM).
